AWARCHISTS ASSISTED IN THEIR EF FORTS AT REVOLUTION.

Important Information Now in Posses sion of the Government-Andrieux Believed to Be Merely a Catapaw-Per mitted to Leave for London Without Police Surveillance-The French Pretenders-Their Claims for Becognition.

PARIS. Jan. 17.-The Government will soon strike a blow. It is reported on excellent authority that there is now ample evidence of a Royalist conspiracy and that arrests will made at an early date. The conspiracy s been hatched in London and Madrid and the Count of Paris instead of having been especially close in expenditures of late for the Royalist cause has been unusually lavish He is not himself managing any details and It is not desired that he should, but his lead hope that the French people will turn to the Count of Paris or the Duke of Orleans for rescue or protection. The headquarters of the Royalist-Socialist intrigue just now is there that the police, through their spies, acquired much valuable information as to the designs of the enemies of the Republic. WHERE PLOTS ARE HATCHED.

The Maison du Peuple is a modest structure on the heights of Montmartre, access to which is by no means easy. It was y the people and for the of which it may be called a second edition, it was originally intended for the free and ratultous discussion of everything concerngenerated into hotbeds of revolution. It is there that all insurrectionary demonstrations are prepared and the mot d'ordre is of holding 1,000 persons. It is decorated with od red flags, bearing revolutionary inscriptions; the platform is covered with red draperies, and overhead are two busts of the Republic, with the Phrygian cap, also nded with red flags; in fact every thing is red and everything reminds us of the reign of terror. Meetings are held there three times a week, when the flow of soul is apparent than the feast of reason, for more apparent than the feast of reason, for there is a large refreshment bar which is well patronized. No doubt the intention was good when the Maison was constructed, it was to be confined to social questions of a high order, but in France the line is so difficult to draw between Socialism and revolution that no wonder the Anarchists soon got possession of it and now it is regarded by possession of it, and now it is regarded by the public with an evil eye.

There is no doubt that as far as the extreme Socialists are concerned the Propa-gande par le Fall is again in the ascendent, and this exactly suits the Royalist plotters. The more dynamite, the more ricting and the more the yearning of the middle classes who have supported the republic for the peace and order the Royalists promise to bring with them.

ANDRIEUX'S MISSION. The fact that M. Andrieux started to-day for London is looked upon as evidence that he is after more ammunition and that so far as charges against the Government are con-cerned the former stock has been exhausted. Andrieux made no secret of his departure and seemed, on the contrary, to be rather ostentatious about it. He is said to be dis-appointed that M. Ribot has not honored him either with a duel or an arrest and to be meditating some fresh provocation that may sting the Ministry into taking personal action against him. The truth is that the Government does not consider M. Andrieux to be in the secret of any plot. The Ministry has no doubt that he has been made use of by those who have deeper designs, but by those who have deeper designs, but thorough investigation has convinced the authorities that the enemies of the Republic have not invited M. Andrieux to the inner mysteries. M. Andrieux has, therefore, been permitted, apparently to his chagrin, been permitted, apparently to his chagrin, to start for London without even the poor distinction of police surveillance.

DR PRETCINCT WILL WAIT.

EX-Minister of War De Freyclant has resolved to keep in the background for the present. His friends say that M. De Freyclant believes in waiting for that calmer public opinion which will follow the existing storm, and that then he will present his case that will amply vindicate him from any analow of saspiclog of improper influence in regard to the Panama enterprise. The Gaulois states that M. De Freycinet has declined to be elected to the military commission of the Senate. He prefers not to seem to interfere in any way with the plans and purposes of the Government as to military or other matters. This attitude of M. De Freycinet is attracting the favorable criticism of many who have been inclined to regard him with aversion in the past.

LOWELL, Mass. Jan. 16,-After several hours of turbulent pushing by crowds to view the face of Gen. Butler, the hall where he lay was closed and the remains were turned over to the Grand Army posts who had charge of the burial. Thirty thousand persons thronged the streets body was removed across the street to the church, Gov. Russell and staff attended, and the legislative committees, also the Governor of New Hampshire and his staff. The G. A. R. Commander in-Chief was also these. The services in the church were brief and attended by thousands. The General was borne finally to his last resting place.

ANECDOTES OF BUTLER.

INCIDENTS WHICH REFLECT THE CHARACTER OF THE REMARKABLE MAN.
When Butler entered Baltimore he and his troops were soaking wet from a heavy rainfall. Presently Capt. Farmer of Lowell re-"General, I have been informe that this hill (Federal Hill) is mined and that we shall all be blown up." "Well, Cap-tain," said Butler, "there will be one com-fort in that. We suall at least get dry." When in Baltimore Gen. Butler was anx-ious to secure horses. Almost, everybody fort in that. We shall at least get dry."

When in Baltimore Gen. Butler was anxious to secure horses. Almost everybody who owned a horse and cart had fied the city or was hiding. A dilapidated-looking team passed Butler's headquarters one day. The mules were spayined and broken down, the harness was bits of rope, and the cart an old sugar hogshead on wheels. "What'll you take?" said Butler, stopping the driver. "Fifty dollars cash, in gold." was the reply. "Your team is worth 1200," said Butler, and the man got it. The next morning two or three hundred horses and carts were drawn up in front of headquarters, and the drivers were besieging Butler to buy them. He confiscated the whole lot and put the men to work clearing up the streets.

Farragut was almost in despair at delay in the supply of coal. Butler was able to relieve him, because he chartered a very large number of ships with the provision that they should be returned with anthracite coal as ballast. "Well, Admiral," he said to Farragut, "I guessed that somebody might want coal and I bought a large quantity. I have about 3,000 tons that you can have as fast as you can put it on board your ship." "Why, this is almost providential." said Farragut.

"Yes," answered Butler, "I provided it."

When Butler was ordered to New York he took a ride with his staff in Central Park. The Chairman of the Park Commissioners met them and said: "Are you riding in the park to encamp my troops when I am ready to bring them on shore."

"Oh!" gasped the horrified Commissioner, said Butler, "oh no. Mr. Commissioner, "said Butler, "oh no. Mr. Commissioner," said Butler, calmip your troops here, General?" "Why, Mr. Commissioner," said Butler also work the collar the park to encamp my troops when I am ready to bring them on shore."

"Well, I guess that's all right; let it be "Well, I guess that's all right; let it be done."

Butler's drooping eye had a curious effect upon some people. On one occasion he wandered into the Senate Chamber when old Garrett Davis of Kedtucky was speaking. He took a seat immediately before the aged Senator and threw himself back in his chair, then sat sideways, cocking his eye up in Davis' face. The old Senator writhed and chafed under Butler's gaze, and finally he picked up a chair and raising it aloft with a trementious oath, swore that if Butler didn't leave he'd smash his head.

The ladles of New Orleans gave Gen. Butler a great deal of trouble during his occupancy of the city. The avere obstreperously rebellious rebels. They wore little secession flags, crossed the street to avoid meeting any one who wore the Federal blue, left public places when Union soldiers entered, invented unpleasant names for Butler's men and for Butler and at last got to spitting in the faces of the Union officers and troops. It was then that Butler issued his famous general order No. 28, in which he said:

As the officers and soldiers of the United States have been subjected to reperted insults from the women (calling themselves ladles) of New Orleans in return for the most scrupulous non-interference and courters on our part, it is ordered that hereafter when any female shall, by word, gesture or movement, insult or show contempt for any officer or seldier of the Unived States, she shall be regarded and held liable to be treated as a woman of the town.

DEATH BY FIRE

An Appalling Calamity on a Russian Railway.

Crowded Train Burned While Going at Full Speed.

FORTY-NINE KILLED OUTRIGHT AND TWENTY INJURED.

The Victims Were Military Recruits Going to the Frontier-Many Lives Lost by Jumping From the Blazing Cars-Criminal Neglegence of the Engineer Caused the Awful Disaster-Fatal Collision at Ses-Casualties.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 17 .- A most peculiar and fatal railway accident occurred to-day on the line between Slatousk and Samara, A train composed of several cars filled with reruits was running from Slatousk to Samars when flames burst from the foremost car. The train was going at full speed and the tongues of fire swept backward, and in a few minutes all the cars were blazing. The engineer for some unaccountable reason did not stop the train until he had run a considerable distance. In the meantime there was a scene of indescribable confusion in the cars. The recruits, or at least as many of them as could, leaped from the windows and doors. Some of them landed uninjured in the heavy snow banks, while others who landed in the cleared track were killed. Those who were unable to get from the cars were burned to death, for the train was entirely consumed. Some of the men were terribly burned before they jumped. When the confusion had somewha subsided the officer in charge of the recruits, who saved himself by jumping, called the roll of his men. It was found that fortynine of them were dead and twenty terribly

A strict investigation will be held to deternine the cause of the fire. It is supposed now that some of the men in the forward car were skylarking and upset the stove The draft caused by the onrushing train caused the flames to spread with such great rapidity that nothing could be done to exinguish them. It is claimed that the en gineer was guilty of criminal negligence in not stopping the train as soon as he saw the fire. Had he done so the loss of life would have been very small.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT. OLATHE, Kan., Jan. 17 .- A sad occurrence appened at the farm of James T. Bancon few miles west of Cedar Junction, yester day. Shortly after dinner Mr. Bancom asked or a rifle to kill some game, at which re quest his sister in law. Miss Grace Cummings, responded with the firearm. In handing it to him the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his right eye, and death resulting instantly. Bancom was about 30 years of age, and leaves a widow and one child.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Italian steamer Sar Marco and the French steamer Agesian were in collision Sunday night in the Straits of Kessina. Both vessels were so badly dam aged that they sunk a short time after the collision. All hands on board both steamers were rescued except the two men from the Agesian who drowned before assistance could reach them. Both steamers were small vessels employed in the Mediterranean trade.

FELL DOWN AN ELEVATOR SHAFT. DENVER, Colo., Jan. 17.-Sister Joseph Ma rla, of St. Joseph's Hospital, fell down the elevator shaft from the third story of the building last night, striking upon her head, and was instantly killed. The unfortunate Sister's family name was O'Connor, and she came from Albany, N. Y., where she and her five sisters took the veil three years ago.

FATAL TRAIN COLLISION. OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 17 .- A tail-end collision last night between two C., B. & Q. freight trains at Villisca, Io., resulted in the death of Dave Woods, son of a wealthy stockman at Elmerson, Io. Woods was sitting in the caboose close to the stove and when the collision occurred the stove was overturned, the coals setting fire to his clothing.

FATAL COLLISION. CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 17.-A Rock Island loco motive collided with a street-car containing stx persons at the Forty-seventh street crossing, fatally wounding Wm. Collins, a police officer, and seriously injuring the other occupants.

EX-PRESIDENT HAYES

Lying Seriously Ill at His Home in Fremont.

FREMONT, O., Jan. 17 .- The condition of ex-President Hayes this morning at 10 o'clock is the same as last night. Dr. F. S. Hilbish the attending physician, spent all of the night at the bedside of the stricken General and left for a short time this morning. The Hayes mansion is kept in omplete quietness this morning, and every possible attention is being received by the ex-fresident. Butherford P. Hayes, son of the General, was seen this morning and stated that the condition of his father was about the same as last night. Many messages of condolence are continually being received and evince the interest that is shown by the public in the welfare of this nobleman.

Fx. President Hayes was slightly better this morning and the family are hopeful of his recovery. Webb C. Hayes stated at noon that his father was resting a little easier than at any time since his sickness began. The doctor remained all night at the sick man's bedside, not leaving until 9 this morning. He soon returned to the house again. The Hiblisch said that Mr. Hayes had passed the night a little more comfortably than any time previous and his condition was slightly petter.

Narrow Escape of Patients in a Military

Hospital. LONDON, Jan. 17 .- The Military Hospital at Stoke, one of the suburbs of Devenport, caught fire this morning. The greatest excitement prevailed among the officials, nurses and patients when the fire made its that filled the wards and corridors. Those patients whose condition permitted them to do so ran thinly clad from the building and were taken in and cared for by the people living in the vicinity. It would have been expected that in a hospital of this character some sort of discipline character some sort of discipline would have been maintained, but there was none at all. The greatest disorder prevailed, but despite this every effort was made to remove the patients who were confined to their beds. They were all carried out in safety and then attention was turned to the fire, which was burning flercely in the lower stories. The troops from the Devonport garrison were ordered to the scene and they rendered most effective aid in removing the sick and afterward assisted the firemen in fighting the flames. The fire was not extinguished until two stories of the hospital were completely guited. It is supposed that the fire was caused by an overheated flue, the extremely cold weather of the past few days necessitating very hot fires in the furnaces.

Governor's appointments, with a good salary and large patronage. The race for the piace was exciting and attracted much attention. It finally narrowed down to a contest between Elijah Gates, Col. Pace and Capt. Bronaugh, and the Governor had a trying time making his selection.

Col. Pace managed a large part of Stone's campaign work in the Southwest before the state Convention and had strong claims for recognition. He also served in the Confederate Army during the late war.

Representative Wurtzburger of St. Louis introduced a bill which the street railroad corporations of the State will watch closely. It requires that every cable or electric train operated anywhere in the State whill have a separate conductor for each car. The passers

He in tends to act very guardedly, and will make a visit or two to St. Louis to study If he carries out what is now believed to be his programme the St. Louis Police Commissioners will not have their appointments passed upon by the Senate until the next session, which will be held two years hence.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION. Another telephone bill containing important features has been introduced. This is the Bond bill, fixing the maximum rental for telephones at $60 per year. Sterling P. Bond of St. Louis is the author. The provisions apply to all sections of the State. The Martin bill, which also reduces rates, is limited in its application to St. Louis and Kansas City. Both bills will be taken up by the Corporations Committee next week.

Col. David H. Armstrong is here urging legislation on the subject of registration laws. "What we want in St. Louis and what we need badly," he said, "are more opportunities and facilities for voters to register. In that city, which I know has a population of over 600,000 people, we get out only 70,000 or 75,000 votes at a presidential election, and this speaks very poorly for the metropolis of Missouri, and such a condition of affairs should not be allowed to continue. There is a way of setting the voters to register and discharge their obligations as citizens. Let the laws be so changed as to open branch registration offices and give the people notice and time sufficient to get their names recorded on the poll books." Col. Armstrong will have a bill presented to carry out his plan.

Norman of Oregon County is fathering the Another telephone bill containing importcorded on the poll books." Col. Armstrong will have a bill presented to carry out his plan.

Norman of Oregon County is fathering the third of the series of separate coach bills. He reasons that Missouri should have separate cars and waiting-rooms at railroad stations for the white and colored races. Norman's county is on the line adjoining Arkansas and he has watched the operations of the law in that State. There is little prospect, however, that any such legislation will find its way through the Legislature and the Governor's office. Some very emphalic expressions of disapproval have been heard on the subject. Killam of Lincoin County is hard after the bootleging drugsits in various parts of the State who sell whisky by the drachm, flask and other quantities. There are a number of them in the temperance counties and the Representative wants to make the penalty severe enough to discourage the business.

The applicants for the St. Louis Coal Oil Inspectorship will watch the course of the bills affecting the fees of that office. As it is now, the fees run away up and the incumbent is allowed to keep all he collects, minus, of course, the expenses of his office. The fees now are estimated at over $18,000 per year. In the last session there was a bill introduced by Representative Tom Martin to abolish the fee system and substitute a salary of $3,000 per year. It perished, however, when it reached the Sunde S

FR. SHERMAN'S VISIT TO BLAINE. The Jesuit Tells What Occurred During His Recent Visit.

Dispatches from Washington, D. C., to-day stated that Rev. Thomas Sherman, S. J., the week, that he went to the man sion of the sick statesman sion of the sick statesman and asked to see him; that the young ladies of the family and James G. Blaine, Jr., objected to his going up to Mr. Blaine's room, but that' Mrs. Blaine overruled their objections and Fr. Shermen was ushered into Mr. Blaine's presence. The story went out that Mrs. Blaine told her sick husband that the visitor was Tom Sherman and the latter asked Mr. Blaine if he could do anything for him. Mr. Blaine replied: "How do you do, Tom? No, there is nottling you can do for me," and then Mr. Blaine closed his eyes and reiapsed into unconsciousness.

do you do, louir and then Mr. Blaine closed his eyes and resispsed into unconsciousness.

Fr. Sherman, who has been suffering for several days from a severe cold, was asked to day if he had any comments to make on the story of his visit to Mr. Blaine. Owing to the importance which the question of Mr. Blaine's religious belief has assumed and the weight which might attach to his words Fr. Sherman consulted his superior, Rev. Fr. Grimmelsman, S. J., the rector of the University, before he made at statement. On his return Fr. Sherman said: "I visited Mr. Blaine last Sunday week instead of last Saturday week. In every other particular the story is correct. He was very low that day and was supposed to be dying. p. m. As the payment of the yearly dues was prerequisite to the right of voting, Mr. Secretary Walsh was kept very busy writing $25 receipts. The vote was fully as large as at any election ever held by the Exchange, and the contest was about the liveliest. There was no issue in the election beyond that of personal preference either for Mr. Wm. J. Baker or Jeremiah Sheehan, the two candidates for the presidency. There were two 'nominations for vice-president, Mr. Patrick Rowan and Mr. P. J. Mognithan; but as two vice-presidents were to be chosen, both were assured an election. Nothing was involved in the choice of directors and members of the Arbitration and Appeals committees beyond the Selection of good men.

The interest in the struggle centered upon the presidency. While both Eaker and Sheehan Professed to be satisfied with their prospects it was conceded that the race was so close that only the count would determine the result. At 12 o'clock the members were served with dinner in the topmost story of the building. There were plates for 230 or 300.

The count of yotes was completed shortly before 8 o'clock. The contest for the presidency resulted as follows: W. J. Baker, 88; Jeremiah Sheehan, 70.

Mgr. Satolli Is Following the Pope's Instructions.

SHARP REJOINDER TO A CRITIC BY HIS

Regulation of Church Affairs in America Paralleled in France-Public Denial That Archbishop Corrigan Opposed Dr. McGlynn's Reinstatement-Heresy Trials Discouraged.

Rome, Jan. 17.-The news of Mgr. Satolli's appointment as Apostolic Delegate came out here yesterday. It caused much consterna-tion and dissatisfaction in certain circles, but at the Vatican and Propaganda no doubt is but that the Pope has acted wisely. Cardinal Rampolla said plainty when quesned on the subject that the appointment has been made as a reply to the determined

Some days ago a prelate, speaking to the Pope, remarked: "It seems that Mgr. Sa-tolli has made a mistake."

His holiness cut him short with the emphatic answer: "Whether well or ill, that which Mgr. Satolli has done he has done because I told him to do it. Mgr. Satolli is not mistaken; he is always merciful."

To laymen it may seem rather bold of Rome to press this scheme of the church in America against the wishes of a considerable section of the episcopacy. This remark was made to an ecclesiastical dignitary to-day and was et with the reply that the Pope had overruled much greater opposition lately in

That is true enough, but the case has absolutely no parallel. Mgr. Satolli spoke for the Pope and had the authority and knowledge of the papal thought, but he interpreted and did not translate the thought. The resistance of the French Bishops was to the will of the Pope expressed by the Pope in the Pope's own letter to the head of the Episcopacy. If when the Pope issues an enclyclical to the American bishops they object, his parallel mperfect. From all that is now known of the proceedings at the recent gathering of dishops it is plain that strictly conference, which implies debate and discussion, whereas the archbishops met only to register foreign conclusions. It seems that considerable misconception might have been averted if Mgr. Satolli had consented to the substitution of a vague formula of acquiescence at the end of the printed schemata. Papal delegates have vastly wider and more definite powers than is supposed by many Catholics. The Pope looked healthy at the secret consistory when fourteen new cardinals were created.

DID NOT OPPOSE DR. M'GLYNN NEW YORK, Jan. 17 .- The Rev. Fr. Conpolly, private secretary to Archbishop Corrigan, gave out last night for publication an answer to the allegations in the cable from Rome that strong protests against Fr. Mc-Glynn's reinstatement had been made by the Archbishop. It is as follows: 'My attention was drawn to a statement published relative to two protests supposed to have been made by the Most Rev. Archbishop against the reconciliation of Dr. McGlynn. It will not be amiss to note the following reply: First, the Most Rev. Second, Norhas he written to any one even in these United States or in Rome, against the reconciliation of Dr. McGlynn.' Glynn's reinstatement had been made by the Fear has been expressed, it is said, by some of those active in the movement that a continuance of active prosecution in the Briggs and similar cases, might eventually cause a split in the church. Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 17.—In the Circuit Court here to-day David Waldo, the well-known owner of race horses, filed an amended petition for an absolute di-yorce from his wife, Jessie Waldo. yorce from his wife, Jessie Waldo. The principal count in the petition is habitual drunkenness. Waldo, whose home is in this city, married his wife, who is also a native of kansas City, several years ago. She is considerably his junior in years and is a very pretty and dashing young woman. Waldo took her with him to the numerous race meetings where his horses ran, and she soon developed the most pronounced sporting proclivities. She bet her money like a plunger and had a fondness for wine revels. She soon became familiar with bookmakers and entertained them in her husband's home. In consequence of her rapid gait Waldo now prays for an absolute divorce.

TESTINONY FOR THE PROSECUTION IN THE

POISONING CASE. PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—The sensational developments of yesterday in the case of Hngh Dempsey, charged with furnishing poison for the purpose of making sick the non-union workmen at Homestead.

Homestead. PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 17 .- The sensational poison for the purpose of making sick the non-union workmen at Homestead, caused a perfect jam in Judge Stowe's branch of the Criminal Court to-day, Not nearly all could ind even standing place in the room. John Wilson, prorietor of the hotel at which Glifoil and Coleman were said to have stopped, was called upon to dentify the entries upon his register in September. His testimony was objected to by the defense, who were sustained by the Court.

Willie Stanley, the district messenger boy who delivered Beatty's Cincinnati message to Mr. Dempsey, testified to that fact.

S. M. Hebron, who worked in the Homestead mills, testified to his brother having been also employed there; to his having been taken sick twice, and described his last illness and death.

S. M. Hebron, Sr., father of L. B. Hebron, deceased, testified to his son's illness and death; that Dr. Holman had attended his son, who died after five weeks' liness.

Capt. Hunt then said: "An analysis made of the excrement showed that it contained nine drops of an oil containing and largely composed of croton oil. It also contained about one-twelfth of grain of arsente." Dr. Hunt was subjected to critical gross-examination.

J. D. Flynn, manager of the Western Union non-union workmen at Homestead, J. D. Flynn, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co., produced a copy of the tele-gram from Cincinnati, Sept. 16, addressed to Dempsey, reading: Send me $20 in a pinch; two good agents on the road.

Court adjourned for dinner.

SEVEN PEOPLE INJURED. Cofferville, Kan., Jan. 17 .- What might have been a very serious wreck occurred last inight at 12:20 on the D. last night at 12:20 on the D. M. & A. Division of the Missouri Pacific road near Coffeyville in which seven people were more or less injured, none fatally. The wreck was occasioned by three loaded box cars breaking away on one of the sidetracks and running flown on the main track into which the passenger, due at Coffeyville at 10:20, crashed. The first freight car was completely demolished and the remaining two burned up. The passenger engine was badly wrecked, but the engineer and firsman escaped without injury.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 17.—About 11 o'clock last night a fire broke out in a candy store on the corner of Seventh avenue North and Washington avenue, and before it North and Washin gton avenue, and before it could be extinguished the twe-story wooden tenement row, Nos. 701, 703, 705 and 707 Washington avenue, north, was gutted. Several families were driven out in the streets. Folives were lost, but a number of people barely esdaped with their lives. The total lots is estimated at $10,000. There was little or no insurance. The building belonged to A. H. Knowles, the wholesale liquor dealers.

FOR GOOD ROADS.

Convention of the National League in Session. WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17 .- The National League for Good Roads met here this morning in its second convention. Forty delegates attended the opening. Senator Manderson of Nebraska called the convention to order and stated that its primary purpose was the advancement of the cause of good roads. There was no element of selfshness in this movement except that all of its advocates are selfish for the interests of all the people. Men in different sections of the constry saw the great and growing needs for better roads, but not until the convention in Chicago lastOctober did a project take tangible shape.

Conflicting Stories About the Richness of the San Juan Country.

DENVER, Colo., Jap. 17.—There are plenty of men in Colorado who have supreme faith in the richness of the San Juan country, notwithstanding the stories so widely circ riches of the gold fields a fake. Some of these people boldly assert that the stories come from localities jealous of the benefits even a small part of its original cost at Cortez.

F. R. Coffin of Highlands, formerly a prominent business man of Cortez, has just received a letter from a friend of his at Cortez, J. R. Thompson, who states that the information brought him by men returning to obtain fresh supplies is the most encouraging. Mr. Thompson is the victim of rheumatism, and in the letter he sadly bemoans his inability to visit the fields. He is an old resident of Southern Colorado, and he has great faith in the fields.

A gentleman with whom a reporter talked to-day expressed the opinion that cities jealous of the gains resulting to their neighbors, Mancos and Cortez in Colorado and Green River in Utah, were seeking to stem the tide through which 'helr dangerous rivals were gaining opulency.

Attention was called to the fact that at first has been dead for several years Mr. Murphy still retains the "Jr." to his name for business reasons.

Mr. Murphy made his entrance into political life at about the same time as his entrance into the business world. Putting his winnings in evidence he has been successful in both. He attended his first convention as a delegate in 1860. Since that time his appearance as a factor in State politics has been continuous. In 1862 he was a delegate to the convention that nominated for allowing his first experience as a delegate to a national convention when Seymour was nominated for President in Tammany Hall. In the interval he was one of the delegates at the three party gatheringsthat placed John T. Hoffman at the head of the State ticket.

During the early part of 1870 Mr. Murphy became one of the lleutenants of Samuel J. Tilden. Four years after, at Tilden's command, he wrested the leadership of Rensselaer County from John H. Colby, who had made the mistake of favoring the nomination of Sanford E. Church for Governor Instead of Mr. Tilden's since then Mr. Murphy has ruled Rensselaer County as absolutely as Richard Croker rules New York. He has been Mayor of the city of Troy several terms and is today largely interested in all its leading lines of business. In State politics Mir. "Hill seems to be hedging," "Yes, Croker's criticism brought him to his senses,""It won't do him any good to take his medicine at this late day.'' These were some of the remarks caught before the Legislature met last night. Everybody around the Cap itol was talking about the Washington interview with Senator Hill. The machine men read the Senator's wordsover and over again. Since a story was told of Mr. Croker! ing with the Electoral College Mr. Hill's friends have been anxious. Sometimes they have talked defiantly. Now they affect to believe that it has been all fixed up, and that the machine's selection for United States Senatorial honors will be administra-tion men. The amount of satisfaction the machine gets from the belief is explainable. It comes from a hope that the plums of patronage will not all be plucked by anti-snapper hands. all efforts to favor them. And it is certain that they are preparing to give the leaders of that opposition a fight to death for control of the State machine.

Since Mr. Cleveland's outspoken remonstrance against Mr. Murphy nothing has been so significant to the followers of the President-elect as the evidences of Mr. Croker's displeasure. They read in it a determination on the part of the Tammany clief to rid himself of a weight about the neck of his organization. Judging from the talk to-night Mr. Croker will not have much trouble in enlisting the sympathies of the Senators and Assemblymen from up the State.

Senators and Assemblymen from up the State.

President-elect Cleveland came to town yesterday from Lagewood to meet certain persons with whom he had appointments. He spent a large portion of the time at the Lawyers' Club with Senator Vilas, who, it is said, was summoned to give an idea of the prospects of cilver legislation in the Upper House. It is understood that Senator Vilas departed at the end of the interview with assurances that the President-elect hoped that no effort-would be spared by the Democrats in the Senate to secure the proposed repeal of the Sherman act before March 4.

Mr. Cleveland spent last night in town, not having completed the business which he had in hand. He will return to Lakewood this afternoon.

HEARD FOR THE CABINET.

THE MISSOURI CONGRESSMAN DISCUSSED AS ture will gradually rise, and that to-morrow will be much warmer than to-day. Snow is among the probabilities to-morrow. From indications in the West it is deemed probable that no more cold weather will be experienced for a week. Of course another cold wave may develop, and no accurate forecast can be made covering so long a period of time, but the conditions are such as to indicate quite a long continuance of mild weather. The area of high barometer that has been stationary in Colorado for several days has passed away, and has been replaced by a low area. To-day it is raining in Texas, and snowing in Colorado, Kansas, and the Indian Territory. The probabilities are that the cold spell is a thing of the past. POSSIBILITY.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 27.-The latest ame mentioned in connection with a Cab inet portfolio is that of Congressman John Heard of the Springfield-Se-District. President-elect Clevedalla inquired of persons who have visited him in New York recently about what they thought of the abilities of Mr. Heard. During the Cleveadministration the Congressman was a very welcome visitor White House, and it is known that Mr. Cleveland considers him a personal friend. Cleveland considers him a personal friend.
Mr. Cleveland has frequently said that if he honored Missouri he would only appoint a native of the State in his Cabinet. Mr. Heard was born in Pettis County, near Sedalia, and graduated from the State University in the class with Jere C. Craus, the leader of the southwest Missouri bar, and Secretary of Wary Stove kikins. He has served ten years in Congress and is recognized as a man of fine business and executive ability. If he should go into the Cabinet it would either be as Postmaster-General or Secretary of the Interior.

O'Neill contest was resumed before Notary Duggan in Recorder Carlisle's office shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The contestor and contestee, with their lawyers, were present and from their positions on either side of Deputy Recorder Maroney carefully scrutinized each ballot as he called out the number and the name of the Congressional condidate in whose favor it was cast. Both sides indulged in a good deal of good-natured badinage as the count proceeded, and seldom missed a chance to score one another, when some mistake or peculiarity in a ballot afforded the opportunity for a joke at the other's expense. The O'Neill faction grow more confident than ever as the count proceeds, this morning's work having resulted in a slight change in the official count in favor of their candidate.

After a few formal questions relative to the keeping of the box to be examined and the care of the two keys required to open it, Deputy Recorder Maroney opened box No. 2 from the Fifty-third Frecinct, and took out the thirteen rejected ballots it contained. These were carrefully scrutinized and two of them were allowed to pass in favor of Mr. Joy. Both boxes from Precinct 73 were opened, but no rejected votes were found. Two bundles of votes were found. Two bundles of votes were found in the first box opened from Precinct 133, which was next examined. The official returns from this precinct give O'Neill 347 votes, Joy 233 votes, Follet 3 votes and Garrison 2 votes. The recount gave O'Neill 347 votes, Joy 233 votes, Follet 3 votes and Garrison 2 votes. The recount gave O'Neill 344, Joy 232, Follet 3, Garrison 2, Four ballots were recorded as "no vote."

In the second box from the same precinct ten rejected votes were found, of which two in favor of Joy were pronounced good and credited to him. The recount in this precinct resulted in a net gain of twenty-six votes for O'Neill.

CHRCKS WHICH DO NOT CHECK.

The report of the committee appainted to investigate the City Treasury emphasizes several significant points connected with the Foerstel shortage which are worth earnest consideration by citizens.

The committee found "the system of checks and balances so complete that it would be difficult, if not impossible, to improve it." It was this system so highly recommended by this special committee which Comptroller Stevenson asserted would prevent any defalcation above $10,000, the amount of cash the Treasurer is permitted to retain every day. Yet the amount of the shortage as summed up by the committee reaches $64,100.32.

The reason that this system of checks and balances, the perfection of which must be accepted on such high authority. failed to accomplish its end has been made plain. It was not enforced. The system was neglected, and the law providing it apparently no concern for the consewas violated for months. A revolver locked up in a drawer at home would be as valuable a means of protection to a man attacked by robbers on the highway as this system has been to the city. But despite the overwhelming proof that official inefficiency and law-breaking were accountable for the looting of the treasury, and not the system of checks and balances, no punishment has been inflicted, no condemnation pronounced and no rebuke uttered by the authorities. Exoneration has been the rule of proced ure.

The suggestion of the committee, therefore, that certain additional checks be provided to increase the efficiency of the system is in the nature of a satirical jest.

The improvements suggested would be bric-a-brac which adorns the shelf of the municipal edifice. Their only effect would be to increase disastrous confidence in a system which does not operate, checks which do not check and protection which does not protect.

When official dishonesty and laxity are punished and official duty is enforced it provements for the system, but then they will not be needed.

In the presence of such astounding boldness and ingenuity in altering the facts to fit the argument reason must be dumb and wisdom hide her head. But, laving aside such amusing features of the discussion as the amending of history to suit the case and finding law for Sunday observance in a constitution which is unique in its silence on the subject of God and religion, of what pith or point in this question is the controversy as to what is the proper way to observe Sunday according to any faith, rule ter of individual opinion and must stand or fall in the judgment of each individual. The preservation of one day of rest in seven is based upon entirely different grounds and has nothing to do with this demand, which is as unsound in principle as it is unwise in policy.

PROTECT PUBLIC INTERESTS.

The natural and inevitable consequen of ill-advised liberality in giving away franchises to corporations is seen in the helpless condition of the people of New York in the face of a problem which they cannot solve. Rapid transit is an imperative necessity, and yet they are at the mercy of the Manhattan, which demands that everything be given it on pain of doing nothing at all. No attempt has been seriously made to preserve to the city the profits arising from the growth of population and this "unearned increment'' is enjoyed by a corporation which has contributed nothing to it. The people's earnings are accumulated by a monopoly and there does not seem to be any way open by which the people may recover their own or prevent future spolia-

The system which has worked itself ou in New York is still in its earlier stages in St. Louis and other cities. Here we have given away franchises right and left with quences and have surrendered much that can be recovered only with great difficulty, if at all. Of course at first blush this looks like a discouragement of private enterprise, but it is only because monopoly has become accustomed to taking unearned dividends through watered stock and overcapitalization. When it is once thoroughly understood that watered stock represents values ornamental trimmings for a bit of legal which belong to the people, capitalists will cease to look for anything more than

The plan under discussion of abolishing the Criminal Court and the Court of Criminal Correction and bringing their cases under the jurisdiction of the Circuit courts, provision being made for the increased work by the addition of two judges, promises the best results. It would bring the court machinery for enforcing criminal law under the influences which now operate to maintain the high character of the Circuit bench, and thus would counteract the effect of the concentration of the forces and influences of vicious political and criminal elements to control the administration of justice which have wrought such monster abuses under the present system. With such a change there would be a far better chance of protecting criminal prosecutions and trials from dishonesty or inefficiency at every point, which appears practically hopeless now The fact that pernicious influences which are carefully excluded from courts dealing with property rights should be permitted to dominate in courts tion of the community from crime is a dis-

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The address of Rev. John M. Snyder in has brought the question to public notice here. That address supplies a great deal of erudition as to the origin of Sunday and the quite interesting, but not at all pertinent to the question. For the question is not what was, or is the Hebraical Sabbath, nor what was the Puritan Sunday. The question is whether an exhibit established by the Congress of the United States, soverned by status less than the congress of the United States, was, or is the Hedraical Sabbath, nor what was the Purlian Sunday. The question is whether an exhibit established by the Congress of the United States, governed by statute law. Insugurated as a legal American institution, may properly transact business on Sunday. That the Fair is a national institution admits That the rair is a national institution admits of no doubt; its location was determined by act of Congress, an appropriation of $2,509,-000 of public money has been made for it and the Secretary of State of the United states has officially notified foreign governments of the establishment of the Fair and has invited their participation.

Now, we do not propose to fight over battles which we won centuries and. It is more what we insist upon is that the fundamental and statute laws of the United States and of each State as to Sunday shall be observed by the Fair and its officers as ether public institutions and other public officers observed by the Fair and its officers as ether public institutions and other public officers observed sunday. We do not ask may privilege, we do not plead for any right, we do not be to for any concession or favor. We demand that the Sunday recognized by the Constitution of the United States, and of every State, shall be observed in the Fair as in every other department or adjunct of the Government. No department or adjunct of the Government. No department of the Government—legislative, junicial or executive—performs any act on that day of the week. No contract can be made on that day, no note signed, no debt collected. It is doubtful whether even a marriage celebrated on that day is legal. For the transaction of business, public or private, it is dies non (no day at all). The laws of the several States forbid in express terms the transaction of publicas on that day, and though the law is often evaded or violated, that fact will not be held as an excuse for its violation by officials appointed by the supreme legislation of the nation.

The legal Sunday is not a holiday in the sense that New Year's Day, Christmas and Pourth of July are holidays. It is not legally counted as a day. It is not counted for instance, in the ten days during which the President may, by sec. Tof art. I of the constitution, withhold his signature from a bill, if Christmesor New Year's fall on Sunday its this sunday, this legal Sunday, which we demand shall be observed. They do not apply to this aspect of the question. They are not reasons for observing Sunday, they are the reasons for the law which declares that the sunday shall be strictly observed. Dr. Snyder shall have addressed his argument to the Constitutional Convention of 1757. As for us, we won our case then, and demand that nobody shall attempt in 1898 to disturb the verdict then made up by the grand inquest of all the people of all the United States.

City Counselor W. C. Marshall decided yes-terday that the bondsmen of ex-City Treasurer Michael Foerstel had had ample time to determine whether they intended making good the they intended making good the shortage in the Treasurer's office, and last evening prepared a formal demand on the bondsmen, requesting them to make good before the 21st inst. the shortage of $64,100.32, before the Pist inst. The demand was made by letter, and as these etters were not delivered until noon to day quite a number of the bondsmen were not in receipt of the information when a Post-Dissertain what action they would take in the premises. Mr. Leo Rassleur, the attorney for the bendsmen, had not heard of the action taken by Mr. Marshall, nor had Mr. Louis Bohle, one of the bondsmen, received his notice from the City Counselor. Mr. Karshall was called on and asked if he had made such a demand of the bondsmen. The demand was made by letter, and as these the bondsmen, received his notice from the City Counselor. Mr. Marshall was called on and asked if he had made such a demand of the bondsmen. After looking through a stack of letters in his desk, he replied:

"Yes, I had the letters written last night, and I see they have been mailed this morning according to my request. I do not propose to let the February term of court pass without a settlement being had in this case. I have notified each and every bondsman of my intention, and if the money is not for heoming by the 21st I shell file papers in a suit to recover the money by law."

INTEND TO PAY UP.

"Well, Mr. Marshall will have to bring suit." said he. "A majority of us are in favor of having the matter, settled amicably and have determined on a plan which we intend to carry out to the letter. The plan of settlement is simply this: We intend to have Mr. Marshall bring suit against us and Mr. Michael Foerstel for the amount of the shortage. We do not propose to fixht the suit in any way, shape or form, but will endeavor to have the settlement made amicably and have judgment enteredagainst us for the amount which is, according to Mr. Marshall's statement, 564, 100.32. The money to pay the shortage will be in the hands of our trustees, Messrs. Henry J. Meyer, Louis F. Holthaus and Henry Ziegenhein before Saturday, and the day the judgment is entered against us the money will be paid over."

A majority of the bondsmen have decided that sooner or later they would have to make good the shortage, and have chosen this plan as a means of settlement, and when they have paid the shortage they expect to be reimbursed as far as it is possible by air. Foerstel. Several of the bondsmen will not agree to a settlement of this kind and aver that they will not pay their apportionment if judgment is rendered against them, and have so informed the bondsmen that have agreed to such a settlement. The bondsmen who have determined to let judgment be entered against them claim that have agreed to such a settlement. The bondsmen who have determined to let judgment be entered against them claim that they are not losing any sleep over the action of the others, and that when judgment is rendered against them claim that they are not losing any sleep over the action of the others, and that when judgment is rendered against them have a settlement determined on by a majority and compet them to pay their share of the deficit.

FOUR BONDSMEN WILL NOT ACCEPT.

The arrangement made for the settlement was perfected on Friday evening last at a meeting of the bondsmen held in Attorney Leo kassieur's office. The meeting was called early in the week and on Friday evening twenty-four of the thirty-five bondsevening twenty four of the thirty-five bondsmen answered to roll cail. The proposition of settlement was explained by Mr. Rassleur and a vote was taken on it after it had been thoroughly discussed. The proposition was accepted by a majority of the bondsmen, and it was then and there agreed that every man on Mr. Foerstel's bond should advance his check for $1,800 before the 21st inst. Those of the bondsmen who were not in attendance were informed of the action taken at the meeting and requested to make their remittances at once. A majority of them have been heard from and only four refuse to make the settlement. If these four bondsmen refuse to pay their apwho have signed an agreement for the settle-ment, Mr. John sellers will make the remain-ing amount good, and another assessment will be made on the bondsmen to reimburse Mr. Sellers.

MR. SPELLBRINK TALKS. Mr. Louis spelibrink, one of the bondsme who has agreed to the settlement, said the afternoon: "The only amicable way I see settling this matter is the manner we have decided upon. The fast of the matter is it money will be ready to morrow and cou-their share." Liout.-Gov. John B. O'Mearathas forwarded his check from Jefferson City for $1,800, and with the checks of L. Spell-brink, John M. Sellers and others, it is in the hands of trustees.

The special committee appointed to examine the condition of the City Treasurer's accounts made a report to Mayor Noonan late last evening. It shows the balance of cash on hand at the last annual examination, April II, to be $2,708,728.36.

Receipts from April II to Dec. 11, 1892, $5,-578,344.55, making a total of $8,287,572.81. Payments during that time were $2,162,008.62.

Amount on hand in cash and cash items Dec. 19, 1892, $2,037,998.30, leaving a deficit of $64,-100.32, which occurred during the administration of Michael Foerstel as City Treasurer. The committee commends the system of checks and balances in vogue in the Comptroller's office, and holds that no system can prevent embezzlements by one who has money in his possession. An additional cierk in the Treasurer's office is recommended to the content of the commended to the content of the content of the content of the content of the commended to the content of the content of troller's office, and holds that no system can prevent embezzlements by one who has money in his possession. An additional clerk in the Treasurer's office is recommended to furnish the Auditor with a daily statement of warrants paid.

Also a paymaster to take charge of the payrolls of the City Treasurer.

A number of balances found on the Anditor's books, which have been carried for years against certain parties and which the committee considers worthless, are recommended to be stricken out or otherwise disposed of, so as not to encumber the books. It is suggested that the Ways and Means Committees of the House and Council examine the coupon accounts and cancel them once a week. Further minor recommendations are made in this regard, and it is suggested that the banks holding city deposits furnish a daily statement of balances on hand to the Compitolier and Auditor.

The committee was composed of J. C. Richardson, Chairman; C. L. Hobiftzelle and W. K. Spinney.

Mr. James Halpin called upon City Co selor Marshall yesterday and was to be allowed to pay his rata share as one of ex-Treasu Foerstel's bondsmen of the deficit in Foerstel's bondemen of the deficit in the treasury. He was considerably surprised to learn that no offer to settle in such a manner could be entertained. Should any of the bondsmen prove insolvent, the others will probably be obliged to liquidate the claim. The city could, if it so wished, collect the full amount of any one bondsman, providing that he was good for the full amount, and his only recourse would be in turn to sue the others.

able contestants and render the result less a genuine test of merit.

"All the high-class horses are entered just as before, and even should a field smaller than the average come to the post (which is by no means certain), the contest will be all the more enjoyable from the fact that only the owners of such horses who have at least a reasonably fair chance of success, will pay $500 to start, and this demonstrates to the public that their money will not be thrown away, no matter on which of the starters they may decide to place a bet,"

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 17 .- Dates are just anounced for the next annual trotting meeting of the Northwestern Breeders' and Trot s' Association which will be held at Washington Park, Sept. 4 to Sept. 16, inclusive ters' Association which will be held at Washington Park, Sept. 4 to Sept. 16, inclusive. It is the longest trotting meeting arranged to take place in this city in the history of the association and will also doubtless be the greatest in every respect.

Secretary Robert' Alien of the association said yesterday that the prospects were unusually bright.

"I think we will have as many trotters and pacers quartered in Washington Park during our meeting as there will be thoroughbreds there during the running meeting," said he. "We expect to spare nothing to place the meeting on a par with the other great events which are to take place in Chicago during the World's Fair."

Negotiations will begin at once with other cities in the circuit for the purpose of avoiding conflicting dates. Inducements will be made to secure all the famous trotters and pacers. Big purses will be offered for competitions against time, as was offered last year and the purses for regular events will be sufficiently large to secure the presence of the best horses. The principal new feature, however, will be agreat stallion stake. How large it will be has not yet been decided, but in the language of one of the directors, "It will be large enough to bring the stallions here." The directors of the association will have a meeting in a short time, at which the amount of the stakes and other matters pertaining to the meeting will be decided. There is little doubt that Sept. 4 to 16 will witness in this city the greatest trotting event of the year.

PENCILLERS WILL PAY THE OLD PRICE. CHICAGO, Jan. 17 .- The figure at which Frank Nutting Shaw secured the betting ring privilege for the World's Fair meeting at Washington Park must remain a secret at Washington Park must remain a secret for conjecture, as the officials of the club regard the transaction as a private business deal, the details of which are not of vital interest to the public. The contract between the club and the lessee of the concession was signed yesterday. Shaw signing the necessory bond. The consideration will be paid over when the meeting opens June 24.

After that the individual bookmakers will do business with shaw who will collect the usual rental of $100 a day from each.

It is said that the entries to the Washington Park stakes, which closed yesterday, will reach a total of 700. The total entry is very heavy, many of the best all aged performers, including the likeliest suburban and Brooklyn Handicap candidates, are nominated for the Columbus, Wheeler, Great Western and Oakwood handicaps, and the best of last year's 2-year-olds are named for the Dear-born.

AT EA T ST. LOUIS. One favorite, three second choices and an outsider at 10 to 1 were successful at the course across the river yesterday. The cold reather had but little effect on the attendance. Zed, who was backed down from even to 4 to 5, won the third event, ridden out by Stevenson, by one and one-half lengths, from Fred Gerhardy's good little colt Zoolein, who was a hot second choice. Anna B., second choice for the inaugaral scramble at 4 to 1, won by one length from Hattle B., who closed at the same price. Harka, the favorite at 7 to 2, ran unplaced. Helena and Jolly Tar closed equal favorites at 2 to 1 for the next event. Neither, however, even showed. Eldoray at 10 to 1 won by one length from Valci, another outsider, who closed at 5 to 1. Straight Out, another second choice at 5 to 2, won the fourth event by about two lengths, from Moss Terry, who closed at the same price. Black Beauty, the favorite at 3 to 2, ran third. Little May, first choice at 3 to 1, won the closing race, all the way, by two lengths. o 4 to 5, won the third event, ridden out

REPORT OF THE GERMAN VICE-CONSUL TO HIS GOVERNMENT.

Hippolyto's Subjects Rebal Against the Presence of Soldiers at the Polls-Two Conspirators Engaged in the Dublin Explosion-Civil Marriage Becomes State Matter in Hungary.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.-The Government has is ned a white-book containing the diplomatic prrespondence as regards Samoa from the ng of 1890 to Dec. 6, 1892. On Sept. 6, 1892, German Vice-Consul at Apia expressed to Government fear of a revolt of the na-es and their resort to arms. The financial resources of the Government and mu-nicipality, he said, were at the lowest ebb and the position of the authorities was be-coming entenable. Trade had stagnated pletely, and the sources of revenue were exhausted. On Dec. 5, 1892, the German Vice-Consul wrote that it was imperative to rm all the natives, as serious disturb-ces were imminent. The dispatches concerning Chief Justice Cederkranz show that official in a very unrable light. From the first, wrote the an Vice-Consul, the Chief Justice reed to confine his activity to the functions of his office and had interfered with the ole administration. He was always quarg with the foreign consuls at Apia and with the British and American settlers. Even more recently, since he had been forced nally to confine his attentions to his proper duties, he provoked complaint by his ardiness in the administration of the law, which had become a farce. The book closes with a list of amendments to Samoan law which were approved at a meeting.

REBELLION IN HAYTL

THE CONSEQUENCE OF USING FORCE AT THE POLLS.

Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 17.-The longthreatened revolution against the Governent and President Hippolyte of Hayti has oken out. Messages have been received stating that a battle was fought in the streets of the village of L'Anse de Naue, a settle nt back of Port au Prince.

As soon as word of the uprising was re-ceived at the Government-house, President Hippolyte issued orders for troops to be dis-patched to the place. In a short time 300 sol-diers and twenty officers were on the way. Troops are under orders to move to suppress this rebellion, and they will be hastened with all the speed the limited facilities of the Re-public afford.

President Hippolyte at once issued a manifesto announcing that these uprisings are nothing more than emeutes, and that there is no organized rebellion or armed opposi tion to the Government. In the elctions which were held day before yesterday Hippolyte's friends and relatives were chosen deputies, but their success is due to a display of force at the polis, which terrorized the voters.

To detect its owner it was laid within the beat of a sentinel, and, in person, the Commodore ordered the marine to see to it that no man touched it. When no one else was by, a saliot approached the 'sentinel and salic' "Tond, you don't want to have a poor fellow flogged, do you?" "Of course not." "Then let me have that hammock, will you?" "I've nothing to do with the hammock," was the answer. The result was that when the time came—whatever the sea term may be—that was to disclose the delinquent every man had his own. Naturally the anger of the balked Commodore fell upon the disobedient sentinel; and orders were given for immediate punishment. In those days officers and crew pulishment. were two chairs. The Commodore said.

according to the San Francisco Examiner.

There is the American mummy family, surpassing in interest the Egyptian mummies, because the bodies themselves, in remarkable preservation, are shown, and the beholder doesn't have to exercise his imagination on discolored cloth and painted wood. The American mummies are Toltecs, the race that preceded the Aztecs and once inhabited Mexico, and, as near as can be scientifically calculated, they died 400 years before Columbus discovered the land in which they were buried. The family consists of four, a man, woman and two children. All will be shown in the sitting postures exactly as they were found.

The bodies were descovered in a cave high up in the mountains of New Mexico, about 200 miles from Deming. They had been placed there fully 800 years ago, proably for protection against some enemy, and the en-

How the Uncanny Work Is Carried On in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 .- George W. Marlowe, a negro, who is alleged to have been engaged in wholesale grave robbery at the nation's capital, in the course of an interview, was asked: "Do you get most of your subjects from Potter's Field?"

"'During the last year I resurrected and sold 340 subjects. Of these only 140 cases came from potter's field."

"Are there many in the business in Washingtonjbesides you and your sons?"

"We have." replied Marlowe," a monopoly of the business. We are very expert."

The resurrectionist at this point remarked that sixty bodies were now in the Washington Asylum dead-house awaiting burial.

"Can't you get hold of some of these bodies?" asked the supposed doctor. "They would be fresher."

"Impossible!" declared Marlowe. "We have to wait until the bodies are buried."

"What cemetery do you get your subjects from?"

"Nearly all of them. but mainly from pot-Potter's Field?"

"Yes, but I am always able to procure bodies when they are wanted."
Fifteen dollars per subject is the ruling price to the Washington colleges and $25 for bodies shipped to points outside. In Washington colleges and $25 for bodies shipped to points outside. In Washington the students pay $18 for each cadaver, leaving a profit of $3 for the demonstrator.
Marlowe said without any heistation and with the same business air with which a doctor might discuss a transaction in beans, buckets or brooms, that he supplied at regular intervals the dissecting material for the medical department of the Columbia University, the Georgetown University Medical College, and the National University Medical College, and the National University Medical College. All these but the last named were supplied this morning. Twe dead women to Georgetown, one dead man to the Columbian and one dead woman'to the Howard.

SIX MILES A MINUTE. An Earthquake Wave Once Crossed the Pacific Ocean in Twelve Hours.

People are apt to indulge apprehension about the movement of waves of the ocean which are erratic, born perhaps of illusion ary influences. Everyone has noticed the action of the wind on a field of corn and seen the undulations caused by its crossing the field in a few seconds; but no one supposes the indulations caused by its crossing the field in a few seconds; but no one supposes that a single stalk has left its place. As with the corn wave, says the Brooklyn Eagle, so with the water wave, the substance remains rising and failing in the same place, while it is only the form that moves. The speed of this movement depends on the speed of the wind. When a gentle breeze is blowing the friction between the atmosphere and the water is small, and only a slight ripple is produced; but should the velocity of the wind increase the ripples become waves or even billows, mountains of water, moving at a fremendous speed. The ripple or slow undulation may move at a velocity varying from three or four to eight or nine miles per hour, and, increasing in size to a wave of greater or less proportions, may have a speed of from ten to fifteen or twenty miles per hour. In a gale the rate increases to twenty-five or thirty, and during storms has been estimated at thirty, thirty-five and even forty miles per hour. This latter speed is exceptionally great and far exceeds the average. Waves which have resulted from earthquake shocks have traversed the ocean at a speed which is almost incredible. For instance, the great earthquake which occurred at Samoda, in Japan, caused a wave which have resulted from that country to San Francisco, a distance of nearly 5,000 miles, in not much more than twelve hours—that is to say, it raced across the ocean at a rate of about six and a half miles per minute. The self-acting tide gauges at San Francisco which recorded the arrival of this great wave rendered it quite certain that this was the actual rate of progress. Then again, the tidal wave which passes over the ocean twice daily travels in places at an enormous speed. It has been estimated that if the seas of the world consisted of one uniform sheet of water the tidal wave would traverse them at the rate of 1,000 miles per hour. As a matter of fact, it does proceed at something like half this pace across the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans. Th that a single stalk has left its place. As with

The funeral would, no doubt, have taken place had not the other Miss Quinlan appeared alive and well yesterday after oon. The dead Nora Quinlan was murdered on the night of Jan. 4 in the hallway of the tenement house No. 504 West Twenty eighth treet by two unknown men, with whom she had been conversing at the door. She was not killed at once, but after she was struck down, dragged herself to the corner of Seventh avenue, where she was found by a policeman. She died in Bellevue Hospital last Wednesday, having seen several persons from the Twenty-eight street tenement house, where she had been boarding for a few days while out of employment, as she had done several times before during the the past year. One of her girl friends from the same house saw her body after it was taken to the Morgue and there is no possible doubt but that this Nora Quinlan was dead Patrick Quinlan of Brooklyn called at the Morgue early Sunday morning and after

VERDICT AGAINST POISONER CARLISLE W. HAR RIS AFFIRMED.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 17 .- The Court of Appeals to-day affirmed the judgment of the ower court in the case of the people vs. Carlisle W. N. Harris, appellant. This was an appeal from a judgment convicting Harris of murder in the first degree. The defendant, who was a student at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in the city of New York, was surgeons in the city of New York, was indicted by the Grand-jury in New York City in February last for causing the death of Helen Neil Potts, a student at the Comstock boarding school for young ladies in New York City. Harris gave her six capsules containing morphine and quinine as a cure for headache, causing her death. Harris was secretly married to the girl under an assumed name some twelve months before she died, and the capsules were given her by Harris a short time before the day set for a public marriage.

CRIMINAL MALPRACTICE. NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A beautiful young woman of 22 years, who gives her name as Alice Whitney, is lying very ill in a flat at No. 351 West Forty-fourth street under the surveillance of the detectives of the Forty seventh Street Police Station. Dr. Frank G. Blinn is locked up under suspicion of bring-ing her into this condition. Miss Whitney's ante-mortem statement was taken by the Coroner, and she has identified Dr. Blinn as having performed a criminal operation upon her. Knowing that she is at death's door she says it is better that she be placed in an unknown grave than bring shame and dis-grace upon her father's home.

P. Slattery spoke enthusiastically on subject. "It is a shame," he said, "that fas great body of rich land should be allowed to be undeveloped any longer. What can be done has been proved by what has been done will only the state of the lands of the five civilized tribes which lie along the western border of the territory are far richer, both in agricultural and mineral resources, than those further west.

"Besides they lie at our very doors and are easily penetrable by our railways, while the lands west of Oklahoma are remote. I am most heartily in favor of calling a convention. Of course, it should meet here, for St. Louis is bound to be the base of supplies for the territory. No one should think that the matter does not interest him. To have that country opened will benefit every citizen of St. Louis. Look at what the growth of Northern Texas has done for us, and that is remote, and the trade has to be divided. We can control nearly everything connected with the trade of the Indian Territory. In a few years it will become our principal feeder; whether manufacturer, business man, employer, employe, freal estate owner, or capitalist, everyone should aid in opening this splendid body of iand to settlement, for everybody will be benefited. Let us have the convention by all means."

ALL FAVOR A CONVENTION.

Joseph M. O'Shea, chief grain inspector, said: "That territory must be open to settlement. Under present conditions some of the finest lands in the country are practically worthless, for they are cultivated only to a very small extent. Corn, wheat, oats and other grains can be grown; cotton has already been cultivated with great success; there are large deposits of coal and much lead and zinc; a dense population could be easily supported, and the people would, from choice and necessity, deal with St. Louis. The trade would be very considerable du for the opening of the Terri-tory is of more importance to St. Lous than most people realize. Its trade ought to be more valuable to us than that of Kansas. I am heartily in Lavor of the pro-posed convention." Others expressed the same views, and a movement will soon be put on foot for calling

TRADE WITH CANADA.

Mr. Charlton Has a Mission to Secure Closer Relations.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 17 .- Mr. Charlone of the Liberal leaders, and a memer of the Canadian Parliament, was at the tol yesterday, interviewing the mem. commercial relations between the United States and Canada. He met Speaker Crisp, Mr. Springer, Bourke Cockran and other members of the Ways and Means Committee and the Committee on Foreign Affairs. In introducing the subject he said that he was not here in an official capacity, but merely for the purpose of sounding the sentiment of Congress to give him light for his guidance at home. He said that the Liberal party did not want the annexation question thrown in as a party question at this time, but it wanted free trade between Canada and the United States in natural products of the farm, the mines, the forests and the manufactured products composed entirely of native raw material.

Mr. Chariton learned from his conversations with Representatives and Senators that there is a strong majority sentiment in favor of annexation.

PRINCE OF FRAUDS.

LANDED IN LONDON JAIL ON A CHARGE OF SWINDLING.

Note1 in Fast Circles as the Man Who Brose a Bank-He Traveled With a Female Favorits in His Own Yacht-Nothing Was Considered Too Lofty for His Ambition

LONDON. Jan, 17.-Charles Wells, commonly known as "Monte Carlo Wells," arrived to-day in the custody of detectives and was arranged at the Bow Street Police Court on weive charges of fraud, amounting to Wells is famed in music hall 154 Great Portland street. His profession was patent agent. London has heard a good deal recently about Mr. Wells. His Monte Carlo exploits brought him into public prom-He claims to have broken the bank through working an infallible system. He published a pamphlet setting forth the de-tails of it. He asked for a partner with heaps of money, promising a golden reward at the expense of the administrators of the great gambling casino. He believed, or affected to believe, in the run of sequences at roulette, but so far as is known Wells did not get his partner. He overlooked one point, which doubtless prevented the partner from coming forward. If by following the sequences of the table it became possible to acquire great wealth, what need was there for great capital to start the operations? Some time after Monte Carlo had made

Wells an object of comment, he began to figure rather unpleasantly in law court reports. He was repeatedly sued for money, which, it was alleged, he had obtained by shady practices. For instance, under an agreement dated March of last year, he was proceeded against by a lady named Miss Catharine Mary Phillimore for the sum of shady practices. For instance, care was proceeded against by a lady named Miss Catharine Mary Phillimore for the sum of £11,000. She had paid to him £9,000 on condition that she was to receive £160,000 ont of the first money obtained from an invention diminishing the consumption of fuel in furnaces. There was a clause in the agreement that in the event of her not receiving at least £11,000 out of the profits before the beginning of April, 1892, that sum should become payable by the defendant. The defendant set up that certain shares of the nominal value of £22,500 were accepted by the plainting in part payment of the £100,000, and that therefore there could be no action. But the plainting so counsel urged that these shares were worth nothing. He said:

"These shares are in C. Wells & Co. The offices of the company are in Parls and with difficulty they have been found out."

The learned counsel added that although they had been laken two years before no furniture had been put in, nobody occupied them and no rent had been paid. The action was set for trial by the judges, the Lord Chief Justice remarking that it was a singular and curious agreement and required looking into.

On Nov. 16, Wells was again heard of in the law courts. There were two claims urged by a gentleman named Harris, to recover £240 received by the defendant for the plaintiff's use, and a charge of fraud was made in the pleading. Wells, through his counsel, consented to judgment, but Mr. Reid, Q. C., who appeared for the plaintiff on a supposed patent. The defendant took out a provisional specification, but did not complete and make the patent a success. After he got the money he did nothing further. They found that this was a regular practice. The defendant would get £5 from some one, he would then spend £1 fingetting a provisional specifications, in 189 forty-five, in 1890 fitteen and in 1891 five, nearly all of which were adminded without his taking out a patent at all. There was a multitude of persons in the court who had a second and witho

ture. She wrote to Wells from on board the yacht that as she was now completely without resources she intended to kill herself. The letter was intercepted by the Public Prosecutor, who summoned her to his office. He was soon convinced, however, that the young woman knew nothing about the misdeeds of which her lover is accused, so he handed her sufficient money to return to London.

FOR YALLEN WOMEN.

The Female Hospital Was Built for Them -Need for Another Institution The White Cross ladies are engaged in women, and are working up an entertainment to raise money for that object.

A delegation of the ladies visited the City Hall last Saturday to interest the officials there in their project. After speaking appreciatively of the ladies and their motives to a Post-Dispatch re-After speaking appreciatively of the ladies and their motives to a Post-Dispatch reporter, Chief Sanitary Officer C. W. Francis stated that, although not generally known, the city already had a hospital that in point of law was precisely what the ladies sought to establish—a hospital and house of industry for unfortunate women where they might have a chance to reform and to learn some useful occupation.

"The hospital, however," Mr. Francis said, "has been totally diverted from its original purpose and the mandate of the Legislature that the Municipal Assembly shall make provision for it as a "social evil hospital and house of industry has been completely disregarded," And then Dr. Francis lugged out a lawbook and explained, that when the "social evil law" was in force along about 1870 or 1872, the Board of Health that was charged with the execution of this enactment bought sixteen acres on the Old Manchester road and established a hospital where diseased women were quarantined. When the law was repealed, the Legislature turned the hospital over to the city of St. Louis and directed the Municipal Assembly to maintain it as a hospital for this unfortunate class, The law may be found on pages 255 and 256 of suilivan's "Revised Ordinances, 1887," secs. 2, 3 and 4.

The hospital thus turned over to the city, and which the Legislature evidentiy intended to be used as a shelter and a reformatory for fallen women, is the institution now known as the Female Hospital and maintained for years as such. It is no longer a reformatory or industrial school at all, but merely a hospital, where all women are treated and turned adrift when cared.

Last year's report of the superintendent of the institution shows that of the 2,076 inmates of the place only 191 of them were fallen women.

mates of the piace only is of the women.

The law has never been repealed. It is therefore in full force. Dr. Francis suggests that if the White Cross ladies desire to establish a home for magdalens, they have but to insist that the Municipal Assembly restore the Female Hospital to its original object—a home and house of industry for unfortunate women.

Another hospital, nowever, would have to be built for other women, who now have to go to the same institution as the worst characters of their sex.

If you have a hard, rasping cough and a feeling of tightness across your chest, with fever, you must take care or you will have an attack of pneumonia. If this be the cas lose no time, but get a bottle of Reid's German Cough and Kidne Cure. It is the only cough remed on the market that will instantly re live pneumonia, because it is a stimulant, but perfectly harmless, so that you can take it in any quantity until you are relieved. If your druggist does not have it write us on a postal card, giving your name and address and the name of this paper; send if to the Sylvan Remedy Co., Peoria, Ill., and we will send you a trial bothle by mail free.

Action is the marvel of the nine-teenth century, for by its use the Bind See, the Dea' Hear, and Catarn's is impersible. Action is truly a scientific instrument, of which the physicians are in witer ignorance of its structure and action. It is our secret and known only to ourselves. It will remove Ca-taracts, Tumors and Cancers. It will cure Myopia, Granulated Lids, and in fact, give perfect vision without the use of glasses, where the eye has not been butchered by the oculists. "Actina" never fails to care Ca-"Actina" never falls to cure Ca-tarch, Deafness, Ringing in the Ears, Bronchitts, Astima, Sore Throat of all kinds, Pains in the Head.

kinds, Pains in the Head.

Over 50,000 'Actinas' are now in use in America and Europe, and never a failure to do all we promised where properly used.

"Actina" is a perfect pocket batters, usable by young as well as old.

Don't wear Spectacles when you can abandon them.

Don't let Oculisis Butcher your Eyes or drug them, unless you want to go blind. Call and examine "Actina." Free treatment at all hours.

PROF. WILSON'S MAGNETO-CONSERVATIVE GARMENTS Cure Paralysis, Rheumatism and all Chronic Forms of Disease. These Garments are as puzzling to the phy-sicians as is the wonder-working "Actinal"

A Palmyra (Mo.) miller says that the fields are in bad, condition in his part of the country. Wheat seed went into dry ground. There is no snow to speak of, and little of the wheat has come up at all. The outlook is the worst in years.

The exports from seven Atlantic ports for the week were 235,153 bbis four, 1,487,929 bu wheat, 689,-163 bu corn, 76,033 bu oats, 5,615 bu rye, 3,934 bbis bork, 10,890,410 lbs bacon and hams and 10,118,530 lbs lard.

An extract from letter from Odessa of Dec. 27 reads, "We are now literally swamped with cereals and have to struggle to get rid of them at any price. Stocks here amount to nearly 10,000,000 bu of unsold grain, which is too much even for Odessa." The London Daily News says that several samples of good wheat have been sold at 26s per qr, and one farmer who secured 25 qrs from 12 acres received 22s, or 66c per bu, while still another received 68c. Owing to the lower price, a much smaller acreage than usual was sown in many parts of the United Ringdom.

Kingdom.

According to the weather service report, the amount of snow on the ground in winter wheat sections from indiana west is: Indianapolis 6 inches, Grand Haven 24, Davenport 11, Dubuque 14, Chicago 5, Springtield, Ill., 3, Des Moines 10, and a trace at Cairo, Springtield, Mo., Kansas City, Concordia and Wichita.

The total rys crop of the world the past year is estimated at 1.216,000,000 bu, against 1.034,000,000 bu in 1890. The countries rating the largest amount are: Russia, 600,000 000 bu; Germany, 246,000,000 bu; Austria, 124,000,000 bu, after which there is a drop below 100,000,000 bu, France holding the next record with 34,000,000 bu. The Senate decided yesterday that the anti-option bill becomes a law Juiy 1, 1893, that is, if it passes both houses and receives the President's signature. This will give speculation an opportunity to turn the yisble supply over once more, changing from beginning of a new crop.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The business in wheat to-day has been good, although not equal to the past few days. The closing price was 520. There is some fresh gossip about the heavy at from 60,00,000 the some estimates being There are undenshedly strong non hold, but we thick the quantity they get credit for is altogether too heavy. The price in the near future we believe now to be a weather question. There is much talk about damage to the crop in the Southwest. Foreign advices are all tending upwards. Corn has ruled strong from 48c to 48%6% for May. Receipts are light, only 90 cars for to-inorrow. The cash demand is very good and we learn the export demand is heavy. We still feel friendly to it on all weak markets. Oats steady. The best buying is by local receiver, the selling by the pit operators. Provisions have been weak from the opening. We are told hog receipts will increase. With an increase alsow, tame of prices will prevail.

These bonds are to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange, and have been examined and passed upon by the Stock Exchange Committee. The road is built in a substantial manner, with 60 pound steel ralls, and is furnished with ample equipment. It was opened for traffic to Hollow Rock and completed to Lexington In 1892, and its earnings for the nine months show that it has earned more than operating expenses and interest charges, which has been verified by an expert railroad accountant. The length of road is 118 miles, beginning at Paducah. Ky., and extending to exington, Tenn., crossing the following railroads at the different points:

Louisville & Nashville at Paris, Tenn.; Nashville & Chattaneoga at Hollow Rock, and at

Lexington, Tenn., connecting with the Tennessee Midland R. R.,

Which is controlled by the Paducah, Tennessee & Alabama R. R., making a through line from Paducah to Memphis under one management, also making direct connection with the Tennessee River on the east. At Paducah the road connects with the Cairo Short Line, opening up a new line and new territory to St. Louis trade.

AT THE THEATERS.

The return of "All Baba" to St. Louis is evidently pleasing to the theatergoers of this city, judging by the enthusiastic reception accorded the play last night. The company is substantially the same that appeared here earlier in the season, but the play has been very considerably remodelled and improved. In Mulle was excellent as Morgiana, and the manner in which Louise Eissing sang the part of All Baba proved that she is capable of undertaking a much more pretentious role. Franklin Raymond as Gamen made a great hit. The costuming was very handsome and the stage-setting elaborate.

"WHEEZING" in children is soon cured by the famous Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Pick-Me-Ups" for Tired Animals. says the Orientals are well versed in hostrums for reviving jaded horses and cattle. He mentions especially the "gunjah," the dried cannabis plant which has flowered and from which the rosin has been removed. It is sold in bundles, about two feet long and three inches in diameter. It is used by smokers, whe derive intense enjoyment from its narcotic fumes. He first learned its value when administered to overworked cattle by witnessing its effects long before the rallway period. A very arduous and difficult march was being performed by an unfinished road through a mountainous country. The exen had had a long spell of continuous work and the road was precipitous, and foothold was so difficult to get that the cattle became exhausted and tottered about helplessly, unable to proceed. There could be no halt, for tigers and bears were all around. In this emergency the ever-ready and resourceful drivers, producing their stock of "gunjah," pounded up a handful for each bullock mixed with sugar. The effect was almost instantaneous. The cattle picked up fresh heart and energy, and trotting on cheerfully soon reached the encampment. trums for reviving jaded horses and cattle.

of All Baba A large and fashionable audience attended he Olympic Theater last night, the occasion being the Elks' benefit, and the appearance of Mr. E. H. Sothern h his new play "Capt. Lettarblair."

pearance of Mr. E. H. Sothern in his new play "Capt. Lettarblair." This play is from the pen of Marguerite Merington, and is decidedly well written. The character of the young Irish officer, who loses his fortune rather than sacrifice his father's name, and joins his regiment as a private soldier, is excellently drawn, while the part of Fanny Hadden, who loves him, but believes him unworthy of her love, is written with great feeling and taste. The company is well able to do justice to it. Mr. Sothern gives a manly and dignified rendition of the character of Capt. Lettarblair Litton. In the scene in his quarters with Francis Merrivale he is particularly strong. At times his mannerisms become too apparent, notably on the occasion of his parting with Fanny Hadden. When pleading for a hearing he is as unmoved and deliberate in utterance as if ordering his dinner, and one would believe that he is under no excitement at all. There is too much of the stare Englishman about his bearing, a personage as little like the real Englishman as the stage American, trousered with the stars and stripes, is like the genuine article. The supporting company is unusually strong. A better interpretation of the character of Fanny Hadden than that given by Virginia Harned it would be difficult to imagine. Her acting is characterized by exquisite taste, repressed feeling and a highlered bearing that is delightful. Jennie Dunbar was piquante and sympathetic as Polly Messiter. Morton Seiten was a forceful if a rather stiff Francis Merrivale, and C. P. Flackton an excellent Dean Ambrose.

At the yearly meeting of the Lack Gas-Light Co., yesterday, Emerson Mc Millin, Franklin Edey, Duncan D. Parmly Isaac H. Lionberger, J. C. Van Blarcom, Luther H. Conn, James Campbell, Peter Nicholson and Alexander Ross were ele directors. Mr. Campbell and Mr. Nicho are new men—the one to fill a vacancy and the other to succeed Mr. Thompson, who retired. At the office of the company this morning it was given out that the business of the meeting was merely routine and formal. No matters of policy and nothing of public interest were discussed, and the changes in the directory had no significance, Council Committees to meet as follows: Municipal Affairs, 17th, 3 p. m.; Public Im-provements, 4 p. m. The business to be con-sidered is mainly routine and comparatively unimportant.

Mr. Burnett, President of the Board of Public Improvements, did not show up this morning, having been reported sick.
